ANNUAL WEBSITE SUBSCRIPTION AND ACCEPTANCE OF RISK

TraditionalMountaineering is organized in Oregon, USA, to provide basic to advanced information and instruction about mountain climbing safety skills and gear, off trail hiking and light weight backpacking, illustrated through actual mountaineering adventures.

TraditionalMountaineering is founded on the premise that "He who knows naught, knows not that he knows naught", that exploring the hills and summitting peaks have dangers that are hidden to the un-informed and that these inherent risks can be in part identified and mitigated by information, training, interesting gear and knowledge gained through the experiences of others.

I am aware that traditional alpine mountaineering, on and off trail hiking, backpacking, scrambling, alpine mountain climbing, rock climbing, backcountry snowshoeing and skiing and other outdoor activities may involve dangers including but not limited to the objective hazards of traveling in mountainous terrain, accidents or illness in remote places, force of nature, and subjective hazards including actions of participants and other persons. I WILL INFORM MYSELF OF THE RISKS OF SUCH ACTIVITIES AND WILL UNDERTAKE THEM ON MY OWN RESPONSIBILITY.

I hereby apply for a website Subscription and permission to participate in free outdoor activities arranged by TraditionalMountaineering.

Attached is my website Subscription. The fee for year 2012 is the amount of $ FREE.

Signatures of all subscribers: (Parents or legal guardians must join with and sign for any persons under 18)
